SCOPE and CONTENT

The Preliminary Report on Schools in Tennessee is issued by every public school in the State, usually within the first month of instruction but no later than November of that school year. The Preliminary Reports serve several functions. The report is a State Board of Education requirement and is used by the Board to ensure that the schools which fall under its jurisdiction are practising the rules and regulations for student recitation in Tennessee. The report further provides the Board its most accurate record of the teachers employed in each county and their daily schedules. This data is used in the succeeding year by the Board for statistical purposes which may involve some allocation of funds for each county school system. The report also contains the enrollment of each school by sex along with the detailed report of the school's facilities and resources.

The Preliminary Reports span the school years 1931-1932 through 1967-1968 and are arranged alphabetically by county. Within each county the schools are listed in alphabetical sequence. In some years no distinction is made among the schools while in others, the schools are divided into grouping i.e. four year county schools, four year city high schools, white high schools, white schools, colored schools county, etc. In a majority of the reports on high schools where race is not clearly designated, the words, "Training School" are included in the school name which indicates the school is comprised of students who are mostly black. This practice disappeared after the 1960-1961 school year.

The Annual Pupil Attendance Reports on High Schools in Tennessee are also included in this record group. The attendance reports begin with the 1932-1933 school year and ends with the 1934-1935 school year. Its arrangement is identical to the arrangement of the preliminary reports.

The Annual Pupil Attendance Reports list the number of days the school was in session, its enrollment and average daily attendance by sex and the actual number of days in the school term for which the teachers were paid.

Record Group 51 also contains the Requisitions for Diplomas for Graduates of High Schools in Tennessee. The requisitions offer a detailed report on the number of units a graduate achieved and the name of the high school in which each year's work was completed. The requisitions cover the school years, 1917-1952. Also included are the Veteran's Requisitions for high school diplomas (G.E.D.), from 1948-1951 and Junior High School Diploma's from 1934-1952.
